FOREWORD

We designed the FACT BOOK 1979-80 to provide timely, accurate, and comparable information about the State University System of Florida. It is intended for the layperson as well as those involved in determining Florida's educational policy. Our primary goal was to present summary information in a form conducive to reader understanding. Thus, in addition to tabular displays, we have included charts and graphs and a glossary of terms and abbreviations. Also, this year we expanded the section on Institutional Characteristics to include data on the quality of our universities and on their energy utilization characteristics.

The data appearing in the FACT BOOK were gathered from a variety of sources. The primary source documents included the State University System Data Tapes, which are provided regularly by the Universities, the Higher Education General Information Survey Reports (HEGIS), annual financial statements, operating budgets, and reports required by the United States Office of Civil Rights.

Although the data presented in the FACT BOOK have been carefully prepared and thoroughly checked by the Board of Regents Staff and the Data Administrators at each University, there still remains the possibility of error. Therefore, if you intend to excerpt portions of this document for publication elsewhere or use its data in major policy development or analysis, we recommend you contact our staff to ensure that you receive any post-publication changes. In order to facilitate this communication, we have placed the initials of the Board of Regents Office responsible for the data presented in the lower left corner of each table or figure. The initials are expanded in the glossary. In addition, a functional directory by responsibility of Board of Regents Staff has been included.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM OF FLORIDA

The State University System (SUS) was established formally in 1905 when the legislature passed the Buckman Act which consolidated the various post high school institutions into three under a Board of Control. After consolidation, the System consisted of the University of Florida, Florida A&M University, and Florida State University. As the desire for an education continued to grow throughout the state and students demanded advanced instruction within commuting distance of their home, the urban areas started to compete for degree-granting institutions. By 1964, University of South Florida in Tampa was under operation, Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton was on the drawing board, and two more institutions, one in Pensacola and one in Orlando, were authorized. In order to enhance coordination of this growing system, the Florida Legislature established the Board of Regents as the single governing board of the state supported universities.

The Board of Regents is a ten member board composed of representatives from various geographical areas of the state who are appointed by the Governor for nine-year terms. This also includes a student Regent appointed for a one-year term. Chief administrative officer of the Board of Regents is the Chancellor. The Board and Chancellor are supported by a central office which is differentiated into three major functional areas: Academic Programs, Planning and Budgeting, and Administration and Support. Each area is administered by a Vice Chancellor.

The Board of Regents is involved primarily in policy-making; therefore, its responsibilities include adoption of system-wide rules and policies, planning for the future needs of the SUS, evaluation and coordination of program development, to name a few. Responsibility for the operation of each institution is delegated to the universities. In the state organizational structure, the Board of Regents is placed under the State Board of Education as "the Division of Universities." Thus, the State Board of Education is charged with the responsibility of approving or disapproving all rules and regulations adopted by the Regents and adopting and transmitting to the Governor the SUS Legislative Budget Request. In 1980, the Governor created by executive order the Postsecondary Education Planning Commission which also will report to the State Board of Education. This commission was established to coordinate higher education in Florida, and thereby, through the coordinated effort, achieve quality improvement.

Today the University System consists of nine universities which are placed strategically throughout the state: in Gainesville, the University of Florida; in Tallahassee, Florida A&M University and Florida State University; in Tampa, the University of South Florida; in Boca Raton, Florida Atlantic University; in Pensacola, the University of West Florida; in Orlando, the University of Central Florida; in Jacksonville, the University of North Florida; in Miami, Florida International University. There are twelve off-campus centers located throughout the state. Also, the University of Florida Institute of Food and Agricultural Science (IFAS) administers seven agricultural research and education centers in addition to 69 county cooperative extension programs. The University of Florida and the University of South Florida have medical schools, the former providing internship and residency programs on campus at Shands Teaching Hospital.

The mission of the State University System is to provide educational opportunities for residents of the state through teaching, research, and public service. Through the establishment of nine universities and the network of community colleges, the SUS has succeeded in achieving one of its major goals, access. Therefore, emphasis in the eighties will be on quality improvement. Aided by the Legislature in 1979, the passage of the Postsecondary Education Act authorized a quality improvement supplement to the universities which included dollars for scientific and technical equipment and an Endowment Trust Fund for Eminent Scholars. Furthermore, Task Forces, composed of private citizens and educators, have been established to address a series of priority issues: Science, Engineering and Technology Service to Industry; University Structure; Health Planning/Teaching Hospitals; Fees; Enrollment Planning and Funding Priorities; and Public Schools Outreach and Service. These issues will constitute the SUS strategy for quality improvement. Through these efforts and others, the State University System will strive in the eighties to realize this goal to provide quality education to the State of Florida.

[1]Regional spaces in dentistry at Emory University are now being phased out, as it is expected that Florida's manpower needs for practicing dentists will be adequately met by graduates of the University of Florida College of Dentistry.

NOTE: As provided by Florida Statutes, Sections 244.01 and 244.02, provisions are made for a limited number of Florida students to receive professional education in medicine, dentistry, optometry and osteopathic medicine at out-of-state schools. For each Florida student accepted within the quota of spaces contracted for under the auspices of the Southern Regional Education Board, the State of Florida pays a contracted amount to the participating institution to help defray overhead and operating costs. By contract agreement, private institutions accepting students with the Regional Compact will reduce the tuition for each "contract" student the amount of $500 per academic year. A Florida student who is accepted by a participating state institution within the quota of Regional spaces contracted for will be placed in the same category as a student who is a legal resident of the state in which the school is located, and the student will be exempt from paying nonresident fees.

TABLE 31.--STATE SUBSIDY TO THE FIRST ACCREDITED MEDICAL SCHOOL
THE UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI SCHOOL OF MEDICINE, 1980-81

NOTE: Florida Statutes, Section 242.62, as amended, provides for a state subsidy to the First Accredited Medical School (University of Miami School of Medicine) to be utilized solely for the purpose of operations and maintenance of the medical school or for medical research. Legislative appropriation for the subsidy is based upon the number of anticipated Florida students, by academic levels, who will be enrolled at the UM School of Medicine each budget year. The subsily does not provide that Florida students enrolled at the UM School of Medicine will receive any credit from the subsidy against their tuition and registration fees.

TABLE 32.--STATE UNIVERSITY SYSTEM CONTRACT PROGRAMS WITH PRIVATE COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES, 1980-81

Institution	Program	Number of Students	Number of Students Semester Credit Hours	State Subsidy
University of Miami	Bachelor of Science in Nursing	50 FTE	1,500	$193,875
Barry College	Master of Social Work	50 FTE	1,403	147,800

NOTE: Florida Statutes, Section 240.209, provides authorization for the Board of Regents to contract with accredited private institutions of higher education within the state for academic programs or facilities. The Regents may contract for a program or for the use of an existing facility if it can be demonstrated that state needs for the program or facility may be met at lower cost through contracting. In all cases, the program or facility obtained through contract must be of equal quality to other programs and facilities in the State University System. Board of Regents Policy, Chapter 6C.808, specifies the conditions which must be met for such a contract to be finalized. The 1979 Florida Legislature appropriated funds for the Board of Regents to use in contracting for two academic programs; i.e., a contract with the University of Miami to provide upper-level instruction to Florida residents pursuing the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree and a contract with Barry College of Miami Shores to provide instruction to Florida residents pursuing the Master of Social Work degree. Students admitted to these two programs will only pay tuition at rates equal to those charged Florida residents at State University System institutions. The contracts specify the number of students which the University of Miami and Barry College may admit under these provisions, the number of student semester credit hours to be taught, and the maximum state subsidy. State funds for these programs are to be allocated on the basis of the number of credit hours taught by the private institutions to the Florida students in these programs.

[6]For the year 1979-80 and 1980-81 there were numerous additional appropriations and transfers made after the Appropriations Bill was approved by the Governor. To more accurately show appropriations for these two years, figures were taken from the Governor's Appropriation Ledgers dated June 30, 1980 and August 31, 1980 respectively.
